9th November 2020

Dear Parents

As you are aware, as of Thursday 5th November, England began a second national lockdown. We have received updated guidance to schools from which we base our operation plan on. The updated guidance states that 'schools should restrict all visits to the setting to those that are absolutely necessary' Therefore, we have had to temporarily suspend voluntary support for reading and book changing until the end of the lockdown period.

As a result of this, you may notice that the frequency with which your child is heard read at school may decrease. Teachers and school staff are still working incredibly hard to hear the children read as regularly as is possible and please do continue to read with your child daily at home. At the moment, your support is more vital than ever.

Books from our reading scheme will still be changed weekly.

Thank you for your continued support.

Yours sincerely

Miss Davis
English Leader
